if the balance of the Nation can stand it, we who get "some of the hog" should not object.

But the construction of such 30-foot channel to make Portland the exclusive sesport of this basin would be a crime against every citizen cherein. It would mean yearly robbery of the wheat growers of over $2.50 a ton on their wheat-millions of dollars annually. It would mean loss of the bulk of the Oriental trade to the Canadian line which can only be outrivaled by the Asteria port, It would mean, also, the usoless expenditure (by the government) of ten million dollars in construction and one million deliars each year in maintainance of that ruisous toy-that 'sop' to Portland's ill-found-

Astoria is hostile to that 30-foot channel if it is to be constructed with the purpose of FORCING the exports of this basin away from their natural outlet at Astoria. But if Portland's railroad will put Astoria on an equality with Pacoma in freight rates on exports, so that the farmer can have his level grade to this port, then Astoria will not oppose the 30-foot channel to Portland. She is willing for that railroad to give Portland a differential of 56 cents a ton on exports, like Philadelphia has over New York, or any differential proportionate to the lesser distance from the wheat fields. In this way Astoria will be on an equality with Portland, and the producers can get the benefit of this great first-class fresh water port and its cheaper ocean

In this way the whole question of girl. superiority of port can be tested without wrong to the producers. Is Portland willing to this fair and mutual arrangement by which all the Columbian basin interests will be conserved against the grabs of rival ports on this coast" Let the Oregonian copy this fair proposition and answer.
